Formal Wordmark

UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA
MORRIS

The University of Minnesota, Morris is a community energized by the belief that knowledge is a renewable, sustainable resource. As a way to represent this belief, the campus adopted a visual identity and a set of guidelines for its use.

Morris's official identity is a formal wordmark.

The formal wordmark reinforces the Morris campus's relationship to the world-renowned University of Minnesota, its 150-year history, its land-grant mission, and its commitment to academic excellence.

M Symbol—A Graphic Element

The M symbol is not part of the official logo of the University of Minnesota, Morris. It is a graphic element available for use in design. Items currently in use that feature the old configuration with the M symbol in conjunction with the wordmark will be phased out and replaced with new artwork as new products are needed.

The symbol's monogram M stands for Morris and for Minnesota. The M is constructed of graceful lines that arc outward, conveying the openness and expressiveness of the Morris campus.

Uncontained and unconstrained, the M is centered within three overlapping circles. The space around the two lower circles forms the infinity sign, illustrating a sense of limitlessness and perpetual motion reflecting Morris's renewable, sustainable education.

Maroon and gold represent Morris's relationship to the University. Green represents Morris's relationship to its rural setting and its commitment to sustainable energy and eco-conscious living.

Three shapes acknowledge the three institutions that have made their home on the Morris campus: An American Indian boarding school from 1887 until 1909; the University of Minnesota West Central School of Agriculture from 1910 until 1963; and the University of Minnesota, Morris, which opened its doors in 1960. Also, Morris was the third school founded in the University of Minnesota system.

2 | Elements of the Identity System

MORRIS.UMN.EDU/URELATIONS/GRAPHICID/

The University of Minnesota, Morris wordmark consists of two elements: the existing wordmark for the University of Minnesota; and the “Morris” name set in Mrs Eaves, small caps. This unique aspect of the wordmark, together with the symbol, gives the Morris signature a distinctive, proprietary character.

The wordmark may never be re-typed, re-created, or re-drawn. It may not be reconstructed, cropped, or altered in any way. Always use the approved electronic art, available through the Office of University Relations or its website—please see page 1.2 for contact information.

Refer to page 2.9 for minimum size requirements.

The M symbol is pictured on this page. It must be reproduced from high-resolution digital files. Contact the Office of University Relations for guidelines on the use of the symbol.

The M symbol is a graphic element, not part of the official identity of the University of Minnesota, Morris. It must not be combined with the wordmark in any way that appears to create a logo.

The M may appear as a design element on the same page as the wordmark, but must be used only to enhance the general appearance of the piece, not to establish an identity for the University of Minnesota, Morris.

The symbol will often be used as background art, in which case the symbol could bleed beyond the boundaries of the item it is on. For good examples of such usage of the symbol, see the section breaker pages throughout these Guidelines, and the items in the Applications section.

The symbol may never be re-created or re-drawn. Always use the approved electronic art, available through the Office of University Relations or its website—please see page 1.2 for contact information.

A renewable, sustainable education— an expression of value, not a tagline.

The former tagline, "A renewable, sustainable education," should no longer be paired with the wordmark. The words may frequently be used within text to express the values of the University of Minnesota, Morris, but they should no longer be viewed as a formal tagline.

The University of Minnesota, Morris Alumni Association is aligned with the University brand, but merits differentiation as a sub-brand because it serves a distinct audience. There are two ways to express the Association's connection with the University of Minnesota, Morris: one that emphasizes Morris (the master brand), and one that emphasizes the Alumni Association (the endorsed brand).

Use the master brand wordmark in communications destined for external audiences (e.g., advertising in non-Morris publications). Use the endorsed brand signatures for publications destined only for the Morris community. Follow the typographic specification and placement shown on this and the following page.

The font used for the Alumni Association name is Mrs Eaves Book, small caps set centered for the vertical wordmark, and flush left for the secondary signature.

The minimum size restrictions follow the rules established for the University of Minnesota, Morris (refer to page 2.9).

Exception to clear space requirements:

- When address block is added to the vertical wordmark, the clear space requirements can be reduced by half (see example on page 5.1).

Minimum Clear Space is X

Minimum Clear Space is U

The Morris Maroon and black wordmarks may be placed on a very light color background. In order to retain the minimum value contrast, use Pantone® Warm Gray 1 as a guide for selection of a light-colored background. Also make sure the background color harmonizes well with the wordmark.

The black wordmark may be placed on any color background as long as enough contrast is maintained for legibility.

The wordmarks should not be reproduced in gold unless the background is maroon.

Morris wordmarks may be reproduced over photographs in positive or reversed formats. The area of the photo chosen must be relatively simple and it must provide sufficient contrast for legibility.

When using the horizontal wordmark on small-scale applications (smaller than 3.0" x 5.0"). The minimum width of the word "Minnesota" should be no smaller than 0.625" wide. For larger applications (3.0" x 5.0" and larger) the minimum width of the word "Minnesota" should be no smaller than 0.875".

The Morris identity will often need to be included in communications along with other identity icons. The examples on these pages are considered associated brands because these entities offer services outside the core University mission to different external audiences. Also, the examples illustrate a variety of positioning and scale relations between the Morris identity and other brand identities.

When the Morris identity appears in close proximity to other Morris-associated brand identities, maintain a minimum distance between any part of the Morris wordmark and any other brand identities appearing with it, as defined on page 2.8. Use more space between two identities whenever possible.

For clearer delineation between two brand identities, a black 0.5 point rule may be placed between them. The rule should be the height of the larger identity.

The Regents Seal represents the Board of Regents of the University of Minnesota. It is not for everyday use and may not be used without the approval of the secretary of the Board of Regents. The Regents Seal is reserved for awards, gifts, and events involving the Board of Regents or documents bearing the signature of the president, vice president, chancellor, or dean.

The chart below shows specifications of the colors in the primary palette in various color modes—Pantone® spot and four-color process (CMYK) for print; RGB for screen applications; and hexadecimal numbers for the Web.

These specifications must be followed in order to be consistent across all Morris communications.

When printed on a black background, Morris Green should be used at a 90 percent tint, and Morris Maroon should be used at a 95 percent tint.

Avenir has been chosen as a secondary typeface for Universitywide applications when the sans-serif font qualities are demanded. In general, sans-serif fonts are best suited for headlines, subheads, and short lines of copy. Avenir, specifically, is also suited to styling larger chunks of text. It is a quickly read, simple form that imbues communications with a modern look. These qualities make Avenir a very good choice for marketing materials and advertising.

Two options of a Morris announcement envelope are shown here. The Morris identity elements and addressing shown here may be applied to other envelopes allowed by the University of Minnesota graphic standards. If cost is prohibitive, use the Morris Maroon symbol instead of three-color.

When typing the mailing address, follow the recommended typographic and placement specifications shown here. If Avenir is not available on your computer, a substitute font, Arial, may be used. Follow the typographic and placement specifications when typing the mailing address.

Duplicating Services is the preferred supplier of all stationery items. Stationery requests should be directed to Duplicating Services, 320-589-6145, or duplserv@morris.umn.edu.

The announcement envelopes should be printed on natural-looking uncoated paper that is either white or off-white.

Announcement Envelope 1 (5 3/4" x 4 3/8 ") (50 percent of actual size)

Announcement Envelope 2 (5 3/4" x 4 3/8 ") (50 percent of actual size)

The examples of address block treatments shown here can be used in variety of publications and on the web. Typically, these address block configurations would appear on the back of brochures and flyers.

The Morris address block is set in eight-point Avenir 45 Book on 11-point leading. Unit designations are set in Avenir 85 Heavy. Add one-half extra line space between paragraphs. The examples on this page are shown in actual size.

The address block begins one M-space below the signature and is centered or left-justified to it.

The address block can also appear 2 M-spaces to the right of the wordmark. In such a configuration, a black 0.5 point rule is placed between the wordmark and the address block. It is not necessary to include "The University of Minnesota, Morris" in the address block.

Clear space requirements for the address blocks are the same as for the wordmark (see page 2.5).
